Revised Self-neglect and Hoarding Strategy (2.0) published

Please cascade to your colleagues, contacts and networks as appropriate, thank you.

Today, Norfolk SAB is pleased to announce publication of its revised Self-neglect and Hoarding Strategy (2.0).

This revised strategy aims to be part of the growing work around early intervention and preventative agendas. As such it directs collaborative multi-agency discussions of self-neglect and/or hoarding cases to the Early Help Hubs (EHH). To encourage a more preventative approach to cases of self-neglect and/or hoarding, the trigger point for taking a case to the EHHs is level 2 (image 4 upwards) on the Clutter Image Rating Scale (CIRT), please see the strategy for more details.

Published alongside the strategy is a Practitioners Guide. This slim guide is intended as a toolkit to support practitioners from a range of agencies with management of cases where an adult is deemed to be at risk due to self-neglecting and/or hoarding behaviours.

Update on Norwich Provider Forums

Dear Provider Forum Members,

Thank you for your interest in the Norwich Locality – we are always keen to engage our provider colleagues in our shared endeavours and have enjoyed learning from initiatives in the locality and county. We would like to continue to engage with you, but via the market development area on Norfolk County Council’s website: <https://www.norfolk.gov.uk/business/supplying-norfolk-county-council/care-providers/market-shaping>

We will be able to put events on the website calendar and we will let you know via email when these are happening, as well as sending you useful information. For now, we will cease the Provider Forums in Norwich and listen to the feedback from the engagement work led by the Market Development Team about how to involve you and engage with you more effectively.

This is certainly not the end, but rather the beginning of more meaningful dialogues! Please do contact me if you have any queries or would like to make a suggestion on gita.prasad@nhs.net

Open Workshops Diabetic Foot Screening

run by an experienced diabetes specialist nurse, who also works in the NHS

This training is aimed at individuals involved with adult diabetes care and/or annual diabetes checks;
such as senior care staff (residential and domiciliary care), registered nurses and healthcare assistants

The care workforce are in a fantastic position to inspect and implement (or assist with) everyday footcare for people living with diabetes, as well as potentially spot foot problems which can then be promptly dealt with. If appropriately trained, they can also carry out a diabetic foot assessment for people unable to attend an annual diabetic review at their surgery.

NICE recommends that people living with diabetes receive a diabetic foot assessment on diagnosis and at least annually thereafter.

This workshop provides the tools/processes that are used to undertake an assessment and result in a risk score; the assessor is not required to make a clinical judgement
